NITRILE DISPOSABLE GLOVES

Whether you're double-gloving over cut-resistant hand protection for meat processing applications or rebuilding the engine of a 1957 Chevy, striking the balance between proper protection and tactile sensitivity is critical. That's why you'll find the Plus on the hands of EMT, industrial and meat processing professionals with jobs that require the utmost in barrier protection, chemical and puncture resistance and tactile discrimination. The eight-mil disposable nitrile glove provides wearers barrier protection and comfort unequaled by supported nitrile gloves nearly twice its thickness. Available in lightly powdered and powder-free versions, Plus patented construction includes low-modulus formulation, maximizing comfort and minimizing hand fatigue.
